Kalman Miller

Kal has been a member of Temple Beth for more than 50 years, and a member of the Temple Beth El Men's Club for all of that time. He was president of the temple from 1985-1989, and just recently completed 10 years as the temple's financial secretary. His volunteer work spans a wide range of Jewish causes. A former president of the New Jersey Region of United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism, he served on the board of the international United Synagogue organization for many years and was its representative to the United Nations for five years. He is also a longtime member of the board of Masorti and was a Masorti delegate to the World Zionist Congress. Kal recently retired from the Board of Directors of the Wilf Campus for Senior Living in Somerset, an outgrowth of the Central New Jersey Jewish Home for the Aged which now includes an apartment complex for independent seniors, an assisted living facility, memory care, hospice care and other programs for the benefit of seniors. Now retired, Kal was a pioneer in the field of computer analysis of large databases. He has been married to Phyllis Miller (also a former temple president) for 56 years. They have two children and two grandchildren.
